The safe and effective use of silver spans back thousands of years. Historically, it has been used in hospitals to prevent infections and as a food and water preservative. When antibiotics became mainstream in the 1940's, the use of silver fell out of fashion, but its benefit to mankind through the centuries is indisputable.

There are places you can still find silver being used. For example, silver cream is routinely placed over newborn babies eyes immediately after birth. The FDA has approved many silver infused medical products due to its anti-microbial nature. Health enthusiasts still use silver in a variety of ways to support the health of their loved ones.*

We believe in the power of silver to offer a natural solution to our customers, so in 2005 we partnered with the most reliable silver producer in the world and brought you Silver 22. Now with even more research extolling the benefits of this remarkable natural substance, we are offering you more quality silver for your money with a larger 16 oz. bottle!

How Silver Works
The beauty of silver is that it does not harm vital, healthy cells. It simply makes it difficult for harmful organisms such as bacteria, yeast and parasites to multiply and survive. These organisms require specific enzymes for their life to continue. Silver disables these enzymes and therefore the microbe cannot reproduce. It does this without any harm to the body because silver does not alter human enzymes. When a good quality product is used correctly there are no unwanted side effects. In fact, our silver has been shown to completely clear the body within 24 hours after ingestion.*

Why Our Silver is Unique
Millions of dollars have been invested in research to uncover the benefits and assure the safety of our Silver 22 product. RBC Life offers silver that is prepared by a unique, patented process, which creates a smaller than average particle size. This size allows for a greater surface area and therefore enhanced effectiveness.

Metallic vs Ionic Silver
A great deal of information and misinformation abounds regarding which type of silver is best, ionic or metallic. Most of the products on the market are ionic forms of silver. These tend to kill bacteria in laboratory test tube studies but are less effective in studies done on humans because their action is very short term. Ionic silver products are quickly neutralized by our liver. The more difficult to produce, but more effective small particle metallic silver, as found in Silver 22, is not neutralized by the liver and can work in the body until it is cleared 24 hours later.*

The Safe Effective Solution
Silver has stood the test of time and research shows that our Silver 22 product is not only incredibly effective, but it is completely safe for daily use. Silver is a truly effective solution used for many health purposes, and users frequently report the benefits of this historically backed ingredient.*

What People are Saying on Facebook
“I used to have sinus issues, but with the help of a Netti pot using water and Silver 22 to irrigate the nose, I have seen a dramatic improvement. I love Silver 22 when traveling to build up my immune system.” - Susan

“I would never travel without having Silver 22 with me. For that tickle that raises a flag for throat ailments, I always gargle and swallow throughout the day. For any beginning of an earache I use Silver 22 for almost instant results.” - Barb

The 4oz Silver 22 has been discontinued. The 16oz size will be available May 20th.

New Findings on the Power of Stem Cells

A recent article published in ScienceDaily, titled “Surprising Ability of Blood Stem Cells to Respond to Emergencies” reveals one of the many new findings on the power of stem cells. A research team in Berlin discovered a new role for hematopoietic stem cells. Not only do they ensure a continuous renewal of our blood cells as we have known, but now it has been revealed that in emergencies they can produce white blood cells “on demand.” White blood cells help the body respond to infection and inflammation.

The role of hematopoietic stem cells is to produce replacement cells when our red and white blood cells die. Red blood cells have a life span of less than three months while white blood cells only survive for a few days. This research shows that a biological molecule is produced in large amounts by the body during times of infection or inflammation and stem cells respond by differentiating into the type of white blood cells most necessary during an acute infection such as macrophages. This allows the body to respond more effectively to the emergency under ideal circumstances.

The details of this research were published in the journal Nature on April 10th.

To keep your stem cell production abilities at their best we suggest a whole foods diet, regular exercise and supplementation with the only nutritional product proven to increase stem cell production, Stem-Kine™.*

“At age 83 I had to have knee surgery. During rehab I was not only in constant pain, but I had no energy until I was introduced to Stem-Kine. I immediately felt renewed energy which made my rehab far better. I don’t ever want to be without it.” – J.I.

Antioxidants Offer Protection from Radioactive Damage

Research conducted at the University of Toronto, Ontario department of medical imaging showed that antioxidants are a powerful tool in the quest to protect the body from the damaging effects of radiation. Their research showed that patients who took an antioxidant blend prior to their exposure to medical radiation (x-rays, CT scans, etc.) experienced significantly less DNA damage than the patients not taking the antioxidant.

The results of this research come as no surprise to us. We have been proclaiming the benefits of antioxidants and their role in DNA protection for over a decade. Microhydrin Plus® is a unique, research-backed antioxidant blend that we recommend for daily use to protect your fragile DNA. Radiation damage not only occurs through medical imaging but also through daily exposure to Wi-Fi, cell phones, power lines, cordless phones and airplane travel. It makes sense to protect your cells every day with the powerful, broad-spectrum antioxidant Microhydrin Plus.*

Brain Power Applesauce

As the rate of children with learning challenges continues to rise, it becomes even more important for parents to learn how to get powerful nutrition into those little bodies. Here is one simple way to give your children the brain-supportive nutrients they need each day.

Pour ½ - 1 cup unsweetened (preferably organic) applesauce into a small bowl. Open 1 capsule of NeuroBright® and 1 capsule of Stem-Kine into the bowl. Add ¾ - 1 tsp. cinnamon (to taste) and stir until well combined. Your child may like 1 drop of liquid stevia or raw honey added to taste. Offer this applesauce with any meal or as a snack.
